STORM INJURES SOLDIERS

FORT GORDON, GA. – Fort Gordon officials have reported that the severe storms that struck the area late last evening caused considerable damage to a bivouac area housing Soldiers participating in Reserve Component Annual Training and the RED DRAGON exercise.

Approximately two dozen members of the unit were transported to Dwight D. Eisenhower Army Medical Center on post for treatment of injuries from storm-related debris and damaged tents. No major injuries have been reported and most of the treated personnel have been returned to duty.
