Local Army Reserve Unit to Deploy to Iraq

AUGUSTA, Ga. – Alpha Company, 345th Military Intelligence Battalion, US Army Reserve, is deploying to Baghdad, Iraq, in support of Operation New Dawn and is hosting a farewell ceremony at Barton Field, Fort Gordon, Ga., Friday at 2 p.m.

The unit will be the first Army Reserve Military Intelligence unit to deploy to the region since the end of combat operations was announced last month. The unit will proceed from Fort Gordon to Fort Bragg, N.C., where the Soldiers will train with the 18th Airborne Corps before moving into Iraq.

During the yearlong deployment, Alpha Company will serve as the Corps Analytical Augmentation Element for United States Forces Iraq (USF-I) located at Camp Victory.

For more information on the ceremony or to interview unit personnel, please contact Staff Sgt. Stephanie Abdullah at (323) 697-9718.
